U. S. Marines in Vladivostok

CONSULATE WILL BE PROTECTED: TERROR REIGNS

British Also Landed
Forces; Red Army
is Near City.

BULLETIN.

Vladivostok, Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—American and British marines were landed here today to guard the consulates of the two nations.

Tokio, Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Terror reigns in Vladivostok as the completion of Japanese evacuation approaches, according to despatches received here today.

Last night the city was plunged in darkness by the failure of the lighting plant. While guards roamed the streets in the darkness, looting and pillaging business houses and residences and holding up pedestrians.

On the outskirts of the town Japanese troops and red forces of the advancing far eastern republic army are reported to have clashed.

Plans Went Wrong.

The original plan of the Japanese was to turn over the administration of Vladivostok to the municipal government and to hold the reds outside the neutral zone until evacuation was complete. Then the municipal authorities refused to take possession of the war munitions left behind by the Japanese and the latter sought to open negotiations with the reds to give the republicans control and thus avoid disorder. The Chita commanders refused to negotiate and the clash between the Japanese and reds is reported to have followed.

CIVILIANS ORDERED OUT.

Vladivostok, Oct. 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—The legislative assembly of the Primor government, refusing to accept responsibility for the protection of foreigners, General Dietrich, has ordered all civilians to leave Vladivostok for China.

Ships are being commandeered for the conveyance of the evacuating inhabitants. The Japanese commander here has moved his headquarters aboard a transport.

CHINA SENDS TROOPS.

Peking, Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Chinese government is sending warships to Vladivostok to protect the Chinese residence there. The military governor of Heilung Kiang has been instructed to send reinforcements to the border to prevent the routed white guards from entering.

Chicago Co. Accused of Graft "Settles"

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The Briggs & Turfway Company, against which the government filed a claim arising out of the handling of $20,000,000 in salvaged iron and steel during the war, has "settled" with the Department of Justice, by sending a check for $428,000, the amount of the claim, it was learned here today.

Four officials of the firm are under indictment on charges of having defrauded the government by making fraudulent income, war profits and excess profit tax returns. A fifth official, Albert I. Lauer, secretary-treasurer, committed suicide shortly after he was convicted by a jury before former Judge Landis, of offering a $50,000 bribe to an income tax collector.

Parachute Leap By Aviator Saved Life

Dayton, O., Oct. 20.—Leaping from his monoplane in a parachute, when the plane began to wobble at a height of 2,000 feet above the ground over North Dayton today, Lieutenant Harold R. Harris, chief of the flying section of McCook Field, escaped death while his plane crashed to earth.

Irish Free State Forces Are Taken

Belfast, Oct. 20.—The capture by Free State forces operating in north Galway of Commandant General T. McGuire, member of the Dail Eireann and 100 men under him, is announced in despatches received here today.

GRANDMOTHER OF JACK WANTS HIM ATTORNEY SAYS

Says Boy's Dad Will Pay Way If He Is Located.

A letter was received at the office of Sheriff Frank Schoenholz this morning which casts some light on the case of the Mrs. Thompson, alias Mrs. Mohr, for whom the authorities of Whiteside, Lee and LaSalle counties are making search. The letter was from Attorney John H. Dailey of Canandaigua, N. Y., who is trying to locate the four-year-old boy who was left here several weeks with Mrs. Grace Helze, chambermaid at the Natchusa Tavern.

The letter states that the woman who posed as the child's mother, is known in that vicinity, her mother, a Mrs. Van Stone, residing at present at Canandaigua, N. Y. It further states that Mr. Thompson, who is said to be in the employ of the Stromberg-Carlson Electric company of Chicago, will furnish transportation for the child, and asks that the Sheriff's office attend to locate him. It will be remembered that Thompson, who had boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nagle on West First street, left suddenly Sunday morning about 4 o'clock, following the publication of the account in the columns of The Evening Telegraph.

The attorney states that there are no funds available in the eastern city for the return of the child to its grandmother, but that this is the action desired. He requests that the child be sent to the sheriff of Ontario county, at Canandaigua, N. Y.

Since the institution of a search started Monday local authorities have been unable to find any trace of either the woman or the child.

SCENE BETWEEN RECTOR AND HIS SINGER RECITED

Dovetails with Other Information Known
By Authorities.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 20.—Authorities investigating the Hall-Mills murder mystery today were checking up details of new information which, they said, dovetail with facts previously obtained and points to a solution of the case which has baffled officials and detectives of Middlesex and Somerset counties for more than a month.

They were said to be weighing a story to the effect that Mrs. Frances N. Hall, widow of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, rector of the Episcopal church of St. John, and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, choir singer, who was slain with the clergyman, quarreled shortly before the Hall's left New Brunswick for a vacation last summer, and that the ill feeling was pronounced after the vacationists returned.

Information of the quarrel was given out by Miss Florence North, woman attorney for Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain choir leader. Mrs. North told reporters that a scene had taken place between Mrs. Mills and the rector's wife at a camp maintained by the church at Point Pleasant on the Jersey coast, last summer. Reference was made to the quarrel in a letter written by Dr. Hall to Mrs. Mills, she said.

SHOOTS BROKER, CHARGES LOVE THEFT

Charging Oscar Martelliere, 37 (inset), broker, had won her love and refused to wed her, Mrs. Pauline Saludes, 30, rushed into his New York office and pumped five shots from an automatic pistol into his body, police declare. Then Mrs. Saludes attempted in vain to take her own life by leaping from a window. Martelliere, who is married, denies he was involved in a love affair with his assailant. He is near death.

EIGHT DIED IN OKLAHOMA MINE BLAST THIS A. M.

Four Badly Burned;
Mine Did Not Ignite, Report.

McCurain, Okla., Oct. 20.—Eight men were killed and four were badly injured in an explosion of gas in the Progressive Coal Company's mine a mile and a half north of McCurain this morning. The injured were badly burned. Property physicians say they are in a serious condition.

The explosion did not ignite the mine, in the opinion of rescue workers who were forced to come to the surface because of bad air. The bradish work was demolished by the blast, rendering it impossible to send fresh air into the mine until new bradishes are erected.

The Blue Ridge Coal Co. took over the properties of the San Bas Coal Co., which passed out of existence in 1912 when an explosion in one of their mines killed 72 men.

Eight Men Offer to Buy Widow Who Wants to Sell Self

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 20.—Within a few hours after she had told the world that she was for sale, the woman who would furnish her with $5000 with which she could pay for an operation which would release her from the bonds of paralysis, Mrs. Ruth Schermerhorn, 23 years old widow of this city, received eight proposals of marriage. Fifty per cent of them were of the "kidding" type, she said, but the other four were bona fide. She has not yet accepted any of them.

Lake Decatur Made State Game Preserve

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 20.—Lake Decatur, a body of water formed by a dam in the Sangamon river here, was Thursday officially set aside "as a rest ground or refuge for water fowls and shore birds for conservation purposes" when B. M. Davidson, Director of Agriculture, signed the order. The lake is thirteen miles long and averages one half mile wide.

TEXAN IS CHOSEN HEAD OF LEGION VOTE WAS LARGE

Given Great and Rousing Reception on His Election.

Convention Hall, New Orleans, La., Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Alvin M. Owsley of Texas was elected national commander of the American Legion at the close of its fourth annual convention here today. The vote was overwhelming.

Owsley was carried on the shoulders of Texas legionnaires to a place on the platform beside the retiring commander, MacNider, who grasped his hand and then turned to the assembly. The Texas band broke loose.

While MacNider jerked the gong violently, "Bill" Deegan of New York, led in the capitulation of defeated candidates. Deegan moved the vote be made unanimous. The vote was announced as: Owsley, 574; Deegan, 251; Thompson, 205; McCormick, 12.

DO YOU KNOW?

(By Dixon Chamber of Commerce)

Snow & Wienman succeeded Sam Rubenstein in the junk business in 1918 and occupied the buildings and yard from 114-18 River Street. At this time their line of business was dealing only in junk, but in order to deal with hides, furs and wool, more room was needed. This resulted in the purchase of the building formerly known as Paul Lord's paint shop. After remodeling had taken place, the front part was used for an office and a store for furs, tubes, and auto accessories. The rear and upper floors are used as a warehouse for metal, rags and wool, and the basement for a hide cellar. The capacity of their business during a year is about 2,000 tons of scrap iron handled and approximately 500 tons of waste material consisting of new and old rags and all kinds of metals. This firm sends out a carload of hides, between five and six hundred bundles, every 45 days direct to Chicago and Milwaukee tanneries. $5,000 pounds of grease wool are sent to eastern markets. In the fur season pelts amounting between $50 to $100,000 are shipped direct to the fur manufacturers.

All the merchandise handled by this firm is shipped into Dixon in carload or local lots. Then it is sorted and graded and like articles are shipped in carload lots to different manufacturers. Since 1920 they added the coal business and are handling a complete line of coke, hard and soft coal. The selling capacity is 2,000 tons a year. This firm has five men on the payroll and are using four trucks daily.

Everyone taking part from the tiny, darling babies to every adult, had the success of the entertainment foremost and all co-operated in gaining it.

The choruses were well trained and sang in time and tune; there were many graceful dancers and specialties. The show was finely staged and costumed by the Book Producing Co., Tulsa, Okla.

Mrs. L. N. Deutsch gave an inspiring prologue and then the curtain rose on Bubble Land with charming May Louise Withers as soloist, seated in the swing in the center of the stage above the heads of the kiddies who filled the entire stage and sang Bubble Land. Balloons were much in evidence everywhere, adding to the picture. Other swings held tiny babies who were good as little kittens and seemed to enjoy the music and the lights.

The side show manager's part was taken by E. D. Oxman and certainly made things hum in this act and there were even some in the audience who believed his story about "Ada, the box constrictor who was 50 feet from head to tail and 50 feet from tail to head, making a total of 100 feet." The dance contest in this number was a scream, and was cleverly put on, the dancers, actors and actresses being selected from the audience.

CONSERVATIVES ARE BUSY PLANNING NEW BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Bonar Law to Head It;
Lloyd George Plans
Forming Party.

London, Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—The conservative party organizers were busy today arranging the meeting at which a leader will be named to succeed Austen Chamberlain.

The election of Andrew Bonar Law is a foregone conclusion, and as soon as the party's vote has been registered he will be in a position to succeed the resigned Lloyd George ministry. It is believed in conservative quarters that the cabinet will be completed before the first of next week. This prediction ignores hints from some coalition sources of the difficulties which Bonar Law may encounter. Prominence is given to a story that Lloyd George proposes to form a center party with Mr. Chamberlain, and the leading coalition unionist, it being insinuated that the new party plans important opposition to the regular conservatives.

Others scout this as being wholly groundless, declaring Mr. Chamberlain and his followers will make no attempt to obstruct Mr. Bonar Law in his work.

CONSIDER EFFECT IN U. S.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Oct. 20.—Developments in the British political situation following the fall of the Lloyd George government continued to hold close attention in both governmental and diplomatic circles here today. Outside of the immediate effect already felt in Washington of the postponement of the coming to this country of the British debt commission, the possibility of any further developments concerning the relations of the two governments, it was said, can be gauged only in the light of developments and the success of Premier-Designate Bonar Law's efforts to form a new cabinet.

Although it appeared doubtful to officials today when the political situation in London would be sufficient to permit the sending of a British commission to this country to discuss the problem of refunding that country's debt to the United States, for which the commission named by the Lloyd George government was to have sailed a week ago, there was little doubt that the negotiations ultimately would be carried out practically on the basis already mapped out.

Lloyd George outlasted all the statesmen who guided the great nations through the World War. In the turmoil of readjustment that followed that conflict he kept his seat at the steering wheel when all around him were losing theirs, and became probably the most outstanding figure among all the men of the world who were engaged in public affairs.

The rise of Lloyd George was an adventure in politics filled with romance. He was born in Manchester, Eng., Jan. 17, 1863. His father, a unitarian school master, died when David was an infant and the child was adopted by an uncle, Richard Lloyd, a Welsh shoemaker and lay preacher. With only a slight education, David went into a law office in the little town in north Wales, where he lived with his uncle. Then he married and soon dived into politics.

Was Liberal Leader.

For eighteen years he was a liberal member of parliament, representing Carnarvon. His ascent to a place among the great statesmen of the world was

INTENDED VICTIM RECALLED STORY IN THIS PAPER WHEN APPROACHED, CALLED HELP

It is Thought Alleged Swindler is Clever
Crook.

William Howard, alias R. S. Ray, who was arrested shortly before noon yesterday by Sheriff George Banning of Oregon and Deputy Sherd Dodson at the Sam Haines farm on the Oak Ridge road west of Oregon, was positively identified late yesterday as being the "Mr. Howard" who failed in several attempts to swindle Ralph Johnson, Palmyra farmer, out of a large sum of money. Chief J. D. Van Bibber of this city, Ralph Johnson and daughter Miss Myra went to Oregon yesterday afternoon, following the report of the arrest of the man through the Evening Telegraph.

Howard was locked up in a cell and when Mr. Johnson and daughter viewed him, they immediately identified him as the man who had visited their place on several occasions. Howard, it is believed, is a member of an organized band of Chicago confidence operators consisting of men and women. Sheriff Banning is working along this line and today forwarded pictures of his prisoner to the Chicago detective bureau experts. It is rumored that Howard is wanted there and that a reward has been standing for some weeks for his arrest.

"Ragged Stranger" Sought
The ragged stranger who worked the "four card monte" game so ineffectively in the presence of Ralph Johnson cannot be located and is thought to have left hurriedly for some unknown place.

It is believed that Howard is a member of an organized band of Chicago confidence operators consisting of men and women. Sheriff Banning is working along this line and today forwarded pictures of his prisoner to the Chicago detective bureau experts. It is rumored that Howard is wanted there and that a reward has been standing for some weeks for his arrest.

Howard was not content with trying his game on one Palmyra township farmer, but owes his arrest to the activity of Aaron Book, a former farmer in Palmyra, who now resides west of Oregon on the Oak Ridge road. Howard drove into the Book farm about noon yesterday and made inquiry about farms in that vicinity which might be for sale. Mr. Book met the stranger who introduced himself as William Howard, and visited with him for a short time. In the few minutes, Mr. Book watched the stranger very closely and decided that he was the same man who had tried to inveigle Ralph Johnson into a confidence game two weeks ago.

Recalled Telegraph's Story

Recalling the account of the man's actions as related in the Evening Telegraph of last week, Mr. Book told his caller that he had no farm land for sale, but referred him to Sam Haines, a neighbor, stating that he believed that Haines had a good piece of farm land which he was anxious to dispose of. Howard inquired the direction of the Haines home, and after thanking Mr. Book for his information, drove on. Mr. Book immediately went to the telephone and called Sheriff Banning at Oregon, who with Deputy Sherd Dodson, hurried out to the Haines farm and arrested the confidence man. Howard was taken completely by surprise when the sheriff and his deputy confronted him.

Considerable Money

It is quite evident that Howard and his companion have been successful in "working" farmers in the vicinity of Polo, as Howard had considerable money in his possession when arrested. The bundles of money were cleverly arranged, with an original bill on the outside and the inside of the pack, stuffed with strips of old newspaper the size of the bills. Paper stickers, such as are used by banks in binding up sums of paper money, marked five and ten thousand dollars, were wrapped and sealed around these packages. Heavy rubber bands were then placed around the end of the packs so that examination of the inner contents would be difficult and they would have the appearance of being legitimate money.

That Howard's game was to work wealthy farmers into the "four card monte" game, allowing them to apparently win a vast sum of money, is evident from a form letter, several copies of which were found in his possession. It is presumed that he used the two strong boxes, one for putting away the legal tender realized the card game and when he had "cleaned" his victim, presented him with an empty strong box and an envelope, in which was a key to the box and a letter. The victim who was led to believe that the strong box con-

THREE KILLED LAST NIGHT, DELIBERATE WRECK OF FAST TRAIN

Rail on Wabash Loosened;
Seven Hurt as Coaches
Take Fire.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 20.—Belief was expressed today that the removal of a rail caused the wreck of Wabash east bound passenger train number 2, near here, last night, causing the death of three persons, the injury of seven others and the destruction of seven coaches by fire. The belief was expressed by Conductor Frank W. Hulbert, of Detroit, and a number of passengers.

The conductor said the rail was not removed from its place, but the spikes had been loosened. Someone, who knew the operation of railway signals, must have tampered with the rail, according to Hulbert, as the wiring was left in its place, so as not to disturb the signals. Passengers on board the train also reported, after looking at the rail, that they believed someone had removed the spikes.

The train was traveling at a high speed when the accident occurred. The engine and seven cars left the rails and plunged seventy feet into a woods, turning over several times. Two passenger coaches remained on the rails.

Fire immediately broke out in the mass of wreckage, under which Engineer Smuggie was buried. It was several hours before rescue workers were able to remove his body.

All of the injured were taken to a hospital at Lafayette, Ind. Smuggie had a wife and daughter at Decatur, Illinois.

The death list later was increased to three as follows:

Engineer Charles L. Schmuggee, Decatur, Illinois.

H. W. Martin, express messenger, Detroit; died enroute to hospital at Lafayette.

R. A. Smith, baggage man, Detroit; identified after being taken to Williamsport.

Lt. of Injured
The injured, all at St. Elizabeth's hospital at Lafayette, follow:

W. W. Field, mail clerk, Huntington, Indiana, left leg cut.

Harry Smith, Maumee, Ohio, passenger; cuts on left hand and leg.

Emerson Crayton, St. Louis; two ribs fractured and both legs cut.

G. O. Dale, Fort Wayne, Indiana; badly bruised.

George Lloyd, St. Louis; bruised about face.

Holbert Durrett, Springfield, Tenn.; bruised about head.

Two express coaches, the combination coach and day coach were burned. Most of the mail was saved and, Deputy Sheriff Stewart placed a guard around the express and mail and later it was removed to the Williamsport postoffice.

Thieves Loot Big Modeste Concern

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Thieves were responsible for many hurried orders by society women today for new gowns, when it was learned that robbers had looted the "Marcia" Shop of Mrs. Ford Rodman Carter, a society leader. Many of the stolen gowns had been ordered for early society events and the opening of the Grand Opera season.

Mrs. Carter opened her fashion shop a week ago, about the time that Muriel McCormick, daughter of Harold McCormick and granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, opened a similar establishment.

Plans for Rockford Federal Prison Are Ready Says Atty. Gen.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—United States Attorney General Daugherty announced here today that preliminary plans and estimates for the erection at Rockford, Illinois, for a federal industrial prison had been prepared, and that work could be started on the institution within 30 days of the granting of appropriations by congress. The plan contemplates taking over a section of the war-time cantonment at Camp Grant.

Her Life a Sea Romance

Taken on shipboard by her sea-captain father when three months old, Helen Jean Lowell never knew a white woman till she was 16. Her father educated her in his cabin, giving her an ordinary schooling plus an expert's knowledge of navigation. Today at 19 she's employed in a Los Angeles office.

Howard refused absolutely to answer any questions. "This is not the time and place for questions to be answered," he told the Ogle county authorities. "Another thing, I do not believe in crossing a bridge until I come to it." This was the only answer he would make to questions put to him.

Warrant Issued Here
The horse and buggy which he used yesterday were rented from a Mr. Morris. Howard, Oregon's Attorney General, issued a warrant charging the prisoner with attempting to operate a confidence game last evening. Aaron Book making the complaint. His case was continued until tomorrow morning.

Ben T. Shaw, who has been with the Westinghouse Electric Co. in Pittsburgh, Pa., since February, has been transferred to a very nice position in their Chicago office.

THE BLOOM OF SUMMER—

There is a slight but perceptible color in the atmosphere of summer. It is not visible close at hand, nor always where the light falls strongest, and if looked at too long it sometimes fades away. But over gorge and heath, in the warm hollows of wheat fields, and round about the rising ground there is something more than air alone. It is not mist, nor the hazy vapour of autumn, nor the blue tints that come over distant hills and woods. As there is a bloom upon peach and grape, so this is the bloom of summer. The air is ripe and rich, full of the emanations, the perfume from corn and flower and leafy tree. In strictness, of course, the term will not be accurate, yet by what other word can this appearance in the atmosphere be described but as a bloom? — Richard Jefferies.

RECEPTION FOR MRS. DECKER WAS GREAT SUCCESS—

The reception given in honor of Mrs. Carrie Decker, Senior Vice-President, Department of Illinois, Woman's Relief Corps, by the members of Dixon Chapter No. 218, on Wednesday evening in G. A. R. hall was a most delightful and happy affair. There were about 200 guests in attendance, including representatives from the various patriotic orders.

Receiving with Mrs. Decker was Past Department President Mrs. Nellie Eastman and Past Department Secretary, Mrs. Allan Reed and the Past Presidents of the Corps.

The hall was made very attractive with ferns, flowers and autumn foliage with here and there, the red, white and blue of the nation's emblem.

In the "Grand Hand Shake," the veterans of the Civil war were given an escort of six young women, bearing flags and preceded by Mrs. Hazel Curran and Miss Mary Bremer, who presented to Mrs. Decker an arm bouquet of gorgeous chrysanthemums.

The program which followed proved very entertaining. Mrs. Katherine Ballou and Mrs. Allan Reed, accompanied on the piano by Miss Brencisa sang very sweetly "Finiculle, Finiculle," and as an encore an old, old favorite, "Just a Song at Twilight," their voices blending most beautifully. Mrs. Anna Burnham then gave a delightful humorous reading entitled, "Anzelina at the Sealback," and responded with an encore equally entertaining.

Then followed a piano solo very charmingly rendered by Mrs. Bahen. "An Impromptu" by Schubert, with a very pleasing encore of Indian music. In her usual gracious and pleasing way Mrs. Marion Heffey gave two readings, the one "Mr. Brown had his hair cut" and the other, "Jacob Straus." After which, Mrs. Katherine Ballou again sang, "If I Had Wings, I'd Fly." Mrs. Albertine McKinney then brought the first part of the program to a close with two lively sketches entitled, "When Callers Come to My Maw" and "His Wife Went to the Country."

After the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," ensemble, Mrs. Nellie Eastman, in behalf of Dixon Corps, presented to Mrs. Decker a beautiful chain of crystals and cut jet, to bind her, as it were, in closer ties to those with whom she has been so closely associated in the past few years. Very complimentary and well chosen remarks by members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion, and Mrs. L. L. Mitchell, representing the Past Presidents of the Corps, brought the evening to a delight close.

DIXON WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS MEETING—

The regular meeting of the Dixon Woman's Relief Corps 218, Auxiliary to the G. A. R. will be held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in G. A. R. hall.

A scramble dinner, at 12 o'clock, at which the officers and members of Walnut Corps will be the guests, will precede the meeting and it is earnestly hoped that the Corps will turn out in goodly number. From the following menu, the members are requested to bring a "serving" for ten people, also their own sandwiches: Meat loaf, creamed potatoes, cabbage salad, baked beans, macaroni or spaghetti with cheese, apple or pumpkin pie.

It will be necessary for the guests to leave before dusk, and so that there will be no delay in calling the meeting, the members are requested to bring their own dishes and silver.

WINTERS-PASCHEN—

Miss Doris Winters, only daughter of Officer and Mrs. J. E. Winters and Fred A. Paschen of Chicago, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. L. W. Walter officiating at the impressive service. The only attendant to the couple was Mrs. Mabel Gerdes. The bride was charmingly attired in dark blue canton crepe, with a corsage bouquet. She is a Dixon girl talented and popular.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner to immediate relatives and friends was served at the home of the bride. The Winters home being decorated with autumn foliage, and with roses and the brilliant salvia.

Mr. and Mrs. Paschen left on the Denver limited for Chicago where they will make their home followed by the good wishes of hosts of friends.

Wolfe and Mandelli to Meet in Kenosha

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 20. — Jack Wolfe, of Cleveland, recognized by the New York Boxing Commission as junior featherweight champion, because of a recent fifteen-round victory over Champion Joe Lynch, has been matched with Sammy Mandelli of Rockford, Ill., to box ten rounds at Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 20th.

The date of the ten-round bout between Harold Smith of the Chicago stock yards and Pal Moore of Memphis at Aurora, Ill., was set for Nov. 10.

Elks in Charge of Johnson Funeral

Dixon lodge of Elks will attend in a body the funeral of the late Donald L. Johnson, veteran printer, who died suddenly at his home Wednesday night. The services will be conducted from the St. Paul chapel Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Burial will take place in Oakwood and the Elks will have charge of the services at the grave. All members of the lodge are urged to attend.

MONOGRAMS

This is the year of the monogram. Besides the large and small ones that are appearing on so many of the sport costumes very neat ones in silver and gold are showing themselves on leather and fabric handbags. They are not so inconspicuous as formerly.

THRILLS!

John and Edna Get Their First Glimpse of Europe

BY ZOE BECKLEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Were business secrets going to wreck the perfect confidence on which

JOHN DURYEA and his bride, EDNA, had built their happiness? Edna fears this when she learned her husband has been entrusted with a "delicate and confidential" mission by his employers. En route to Europe, John tells her the secret. He has been ordered to investigate the suspicious actions of the firm's European manager.

COUSINS. Edna plans to assist her husband in the discovery of business intrigue.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

There was no more sleep that night for the Duryeas. They dressed in their landing clothes and went on deck to see the dawn break upon their first sight of Europe.

The velvet Italian night, its glitter softened to a delicate lilac, took on the pastel colors of a lovely dawn. There against the skyline ahead was a gracefully tapering peak, a cloudy plume at its crest.

"Why—it's Mount Vesuvius!" cried Edna. "Think of recognizing the old dear from his pictures! Naughty old creature that destroyed Pompeii and Herculaneum."

"And look—the city—the Bay of Naples—and way out there, that shadowy thing, what is it? Capri? Oh, Jack, how lovely—how marvelous for us to be seeing it all—together like this!"

Jack caught some of her excitement.

"Hope we don't die of it, Eds. There's a saying, you know: 'See Naples and die.' Some slogan for a town to adopt!"

Edna felt a little pang of displeasure.

"Oh, Jack, that's what a poet said of Naples—so beautiful that after seeing it there seemed nothing left to live for. Just a bit of beautiful exaggeration. Can't you feel a little of it with him?"

"Divide a bit!" laughed Jack cheerfully. "Haven't got a nickel's worth of poet in me. You'll have to put up with a plain, though handsome, business man."

She seized and shook him. "No such thing, Jack Duryea. You wrote the class song at college. You can be a poet if you want to. I've got letters from you that are—well, literature! You only choose to put on this hardware salesman air."

"More money in it."

ELABORATE BRAIDING

Elaborate braiding is seen on the newest street costumes. A long bodice entirely covered with braid and a circular skirt is a popular mode just now.

HE RAISED HIS GLASSES.

"There'll have to be both money and poetry in this family, Jack Duryea." Edna's voice was a determined as it was gay. "And on this trip, old Mister Business Man, poetry's to be the order of the day!"

But Jack was hardly listening. He was staring at the revenue cutter approaching them. He raised his glasses.

"By jiminy, Ed, if it isn't old Cousins come to meet us! Thought he was in gay Paree. Well, if that isn't being friendly!"

Edna grabbed good-humoredly for the binoculars.

She saw a brisk, corpulent, well-dressed man with the short beard of the modern Frenchman of affairs.

The powerful glasses brought his face close to her. She saw him scanning the rail of the Roma eagerly.

But there seemed in his expression much more the look of being on guard than of the pleasant tension of waiting welcome.

Dad and Son Found Guilty of Murder; Taken Out and Shot

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 20. — Ed Hartley and his son, George Hartley, recently convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of Connie Hartley, Ed Hartley's nephew, in Benton county last February, were taken from the jail at Camden at midnight and shot to death in a vacant lot 200 yards from the jail.

News from Camden is that the mob numbered between 25 and 30 men, with faces blackened appeared at the jail, and overpowering Sheriff E. G. Flowers, took the Hartleys and marching them to the vacant lot, rid-dled them with bullets.

At the time of the killing of Connie Hartley last February, his father John Hartley was seriously wounded, being at death's door for several days. Ed and George Hartley were convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the Benton county circuit court Sept. 22, and made a motion for a new trial. At the time of the trial, Ed Hartley, son of Ed Hartley, and Bill Conley, a boy, were acquitted of the charge.

This was the first case of mob law in Benton county's history.

Quick Oats

Instant Quaker Oats

The quickest cooking oats in the world

Quaker Oats now come in two styles, the Instant and the regular.

Instant Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.

The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. But have that lusciousness which has won the world to Quaker.

But in Instant Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles. If you want the Instant look for "Instant" on the label. Those oats will cook perfectly in 3 to 5 minutes.

SPEED CRAZE

An army airplane the other day flew at the terrific speed of over 220 miles an hour. Lieut. R. L. Maughan was the pilot.

This was faster than any human being ever had traveled. A great fuss is being made about it, in scientific circles. Admittedly, it was an "accomplishment." But, after all, are people being made any happier or the world a better place to live in, by American ability to travel at such dizzy speed?

Until the automobile was invented,
people took life as it came—calmly,
nappily, without any feverish rush.

The auto ushered in a craze for speed.
Everything followed the auto's lead and speeded up. Fast living, of two kinds, arrived. Efficiency experts began adjusting the processes of life to gasoline-engine pace. The shipping clerk was shown how to drive more nails per minute, the hod-carrier how to get more bricks on his hod.

People began to gulp their meals,
where eating had once been a delightful ceremony, enjoyable, lingering on each morsel of luscious food. Slow, dragging sentimental ballads gave way to swift-moving jazz music.
Dancing became faster. Life all around was geared to higher speed.
And, with the process, came a nervous tension, result of noise and rush.

The speed "man," of course, has been less noticeable on farms and in small towns, than in the big cities.
But they, too, are catching the fever.
Mr. Farmer wants his news by radio, can't wait until the rural postman lashes by in his overheated flivver.

Even the once plodding fisherman, who formerly purled with contentment as he rowed to his favorite bass pool, now squirms like a lad with St.
Vitus dance, until he gets a motor to hustle up his boat, also fast-muti-plying reels.

Show people how to move faster, how to shave off a second or two, and name your own price.

The auto couldn't keep up with the public appetite for speed, so the airplane is being developed. Some experts assert that airplanes soon will make 1000 miles an hour. Sounds probable.

But is this frantic rush really making life more happy? What are we all so afraid of, that we are hurrying to get past it? It's a mad rush, by "bundles of nerves," with no destination.

In the long run, is it any more important than if all rabbits learned how to leap twice as far and take two leaps where only one was leant before. If any of the lower animals suddenly speeded up and began rushing about, as we humans have in the last two decades, scientists would cry
"Wave of insanity—social neurasthenia."

Not satisfied, they're carting us away in auto-hearses. Soon they'll learn they can get us buried quicker by airplane.

It's "the pace that kills."

ALASKA

The Sourdough Limited rushes over railroad tracks in Alaska where traffic used to be by dog teams.

The traveler half frozen on his sled
when the search was for gold.

Now he rides in a steam heated Pullman, prospecting for timber and crops. Not as much romance and adventure, but more comfort. The three never go together.

MIRACLE

Deaf and dumb for 70 years, Lena Stein suddenly recovers the power to hear and speak. This happens in New York. Doctors are puzzled. They think the miracle in some mysterious way is connected with Lena's having had combination flu and pneumonia three times in succession.

Her luck doesn't do her much good for she is past 80, the age at which eternal silence is not far off. Good luck generally has a string attached to it. So does bad luck.

JOKE

Good joke in the Wall Street Journal. A banker with one glass eye was firm in refusing a loan. Applicant was equally firm.

"I'll make you a sporting proposition," the banker suggested. "You get the loan if you tell me which eye is glass."

"That's easy. It's your left."

"Right. How did you know?"

"It's the more sympathetic of the two," said the borrower.

PRICES

Jim Patten, the wheat king, is asked to explain why the farmer's buying power is a fourth less than before the war. Patten's explanation is that industrial wages are fixed artificially, while the farmer's income is regulated mostly by natural competition.

You have always been told by economists, that wheat is the barometer or regulator of general prices. Something has gone wrong with that system. There is a new price regulator.
It is soft coal.

GHOSTS

Thurston, the magician, invents a radio apparatus. He says it picks up "unexplainable tappings" like table rappings at a seance which convinces him that so-called spirit phenomena are founded on something tangible.

This is interesting and important, granted that Thurston is not laying his wires to bring out a radio ghost for his new winter show. He seems to be sincere. To his credit, Thurston has never claimed supernatural powers.

PLANETS

Magician Thurston has an interesting new theory about Mars and other planets, which he believes are "inhabited by beings, physical or spiritual, who are similar to us in mentality."

Thurston suggests that messages received by mediums at seances are not from the dead, but telepathic communications from the super-people out yonder among the stars. If you disagree, how can you prove that Thurston is wrong?

TRAINING

A professor in a co-educational college boasts that his school "places great stress on training its young women to become good wives and mothers."

Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, president of the New York League of Business and Professional Women, interrupts with this: "And what method do you use to train your young men to become good husbands and fathers?"

No answer, of course.

BRINGING UP FATHER

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

(No. 83)

BY ELTON

After Jack left his horse with the old farmer Flip soon caught up with him. "This might be private property," said Jack, "but I'm going to take a short cut through it. I have gone much too far to turn back now."
And on he went.

In a short time Jack came upon another farmer and asked him if he was on private grounds. "You sure are," answered the man, "and you'd better get off. All the country round here belongs to J. B. Ogre and he is a multi-millionaire."

However, Jack did not take the stranger's advice, but kept right on.
He had not gone far before he was halted by another man. "Hey, you," yelled the man, "what are you doing on these grounds?" Jack was a bit frightened. Continued in next chapter.

BIRDS COME TO TWINS' AID

"Hopping Goldfish and Swimming Grasshopper," cried the Green Wizard

"Ho! What do I see?" cried the Green Wizard, looking down from the tree-tops.

A minute before Nancy and Nick had been rolling along as comfy as the footman on Cinderella's coach in plain view of everybody, but now there wasn't a thing to be seen but a thick white fog that covered everything.

"Hopping goldfish and swimming grasshoppers!" cried the Green Wizard, shading his eyes and looking harder than ever. "I mean 'swimming goldfishes' and 'hopping grasshoppers'—no, I mean, oh goodness! I don't know what I mean. I'm completely flabbergasted. Now where did that fog come from and who sent it?"

Suddenly the Green Wizard guessed the truth. He guessed tricky little Light Fingers was at the bottom of the trouble.

"Now I know exactly what happened," said he. "Light Fingers is still trying to steal the automobile
I made for the Fairy Queen and he has dumped the weatherman's barrel of fog out of the sky so he can catch the Twins. Hark, I believe I hear him coming. Yes, sir, I certainly do. I must be quick."

The Green Wizard went first to the birds. He knocked on everybody's front door in Whispering Forest and the Old Orchard and Bright Meadow and told each one the trouble.

BREAKFAST BARKING

DEFIANCE

By Berton Braley

FATE shall not break me (though her heavy hand
Crushes each edifice that I have planned.
Amid the ruins I shall start again (With no bewailing all that might have been)
Mixing new mortar, bringing in new sand;
I shall rebuild the arches that once spanned
The doorways of my home in fairyland,
Thus shall I prove to all the world of men
Fate shall not break me.

THE wreck of all my visions have I scanned,
My bright hopes blasted and my great dreams banned.
But I shall keep on building dreams, and when They fall in wreck, though it were ten times ten,
I shall rebuild till firm and strong they stand!
Fate shall not break me.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of the man, which is in him? Even so the things of God none knoweth save the spirit of God. — I Corinthians 2:11.

To be a strong hand in the dark to another in the time of need, to be a cup of strength to a human soul in a crisis of weakness, is to know the glory of life.—Hugh Black.

dent.

ESKIMOS

Canada's mounted police count noses and find only about 2700 Eskimos living in the Far North, not including Alaska.

The low figure is surprising. Beginning with our first lessons in geography, we have heard so much about the Eskimos that most of us imagined they existed in much greater numbers.

In bidding for fame, the Eskimos have had the additional handicap of never producing a great man.

Despite mediocrity and fewness, the Eskimos have become known in all parts of the earth.

This shows the power of advertising.

REYNOLDS CHURCH NEWS

Rev. J. G. Feucht, Pastor
The Sunday School contest for this quarter is becoming very interesting. The men who were considerably in arrears are gaining in number of points. We hope this fact will stimulate greater interest on both sides for more determined efforts.

One class in religious education is now at work in the Reynolds School. Others will be formed if the cooperation of parents can be secured. In our rural districts at least this phase of the child's development is greatly neglected. To have too long worked on the theory that the child can be trained in two parts, the intellectual in the day school and the religious in the church. But unfortunately we can't take the child and train its intellectual nature on week days and its religious nature on Sunday for one hour and succeed in building a full rounded life. Neither can we add the deficiency by a final dose of denominational catechism. We must combine the training of this two-fold nature into one process of development, if we would produce character and moral stamina. Will the people realize before it is too late that we must lay aside religious bigotry and be aroused from religious indifference, and unite in one intensive community program for the development of christian citizenship? The child's religious attitude must be shaped by earnest parents and intelligent, devoted teachers of religion. We solicit earnestly the cooperation of every parent within the boundary of Reynolds church community. Let us make the church and all its organizations effective means for the development of character which is essential to our happiness for time and eternity.

Note the time of our services:

The Economy BAKING POWDER

BEST BY TEST

Avoid disappointments. Millions of housewives are using Calumet because of its dependability. They know that the bakings will always turn out just right. Pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins, will always be perfectly raised, light and wholesome if you use Calumet, the real economical leavener.

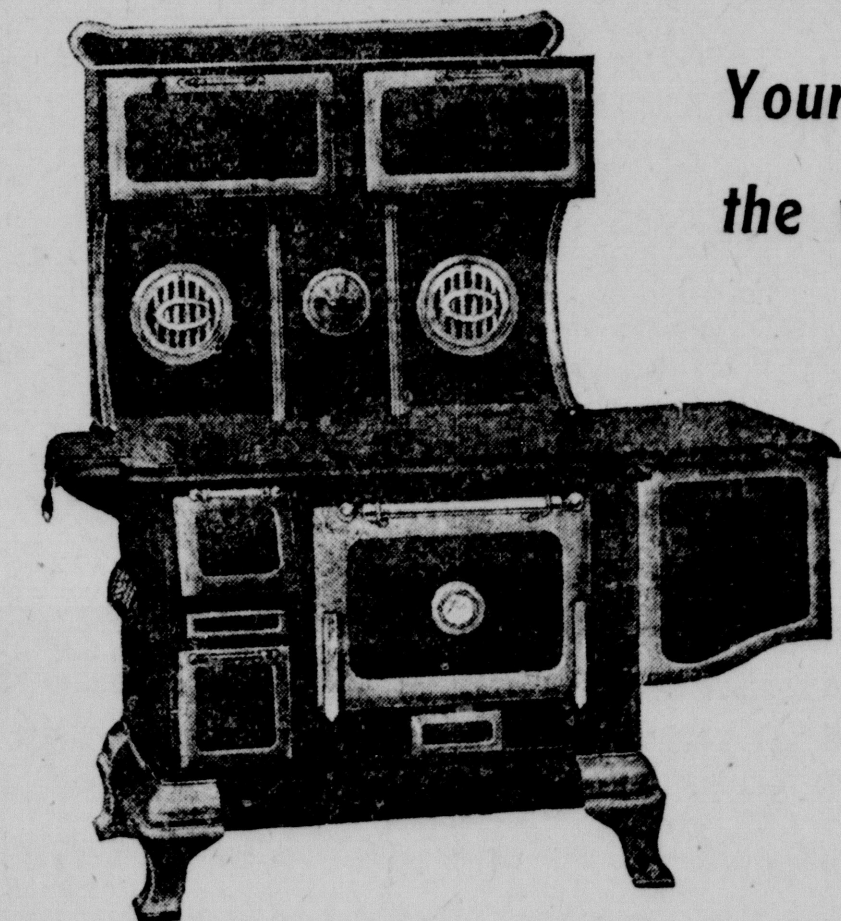

Calumet sales are 2½ times as much as that of any other brand—always call for it.

For Fine Garments—Coats you'll be proud to wear

There is one safe and sure guide to follow in selecting clothes, and that is the number of people buying them.

In this respect, as in others the majority is usually right—the choice the majority make is usually the right choice.

We're talking to you about overcoats from Hart Schaffner & Marx and other makers who have won their spurs in a permanent way.

It's better, isn't it to be guided by the approval of thousands of users than to "take a chance" with something that has not won public approval in a big way.

The product of a volume manufacturer, assures you first, of quality—without which a large volume of sales cannot be permanently maintained, and second, of full value—the basis on which every large business is started and developed.

You'll get the most for your overcoat money by buying with this idea in mind.

Values and assortment are at their best—right now.

The FLAMING JEWEL

by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS
©1922 GEORGE H. DORAN COMPANY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

In his hunting camp in the Adirondacks, MIKE CLINCH, rum-runner and law-breaker in general, is hoarding the flaming jewel, that priceless gem first stolen from the COUNTESS OF ESTHONIA by the international thief, QUINTANA, and stolen from Quintana by Clinch. Quintana has returned to gain possession of the jewel which Clinch passionately desires as the means of "making a lady" of his beautiful step-daughter, EVE STRAYER.

JAMES DARRAGH, under the name of HAL SMITH, is at Clinch's camp seeking to gain possession of the jewel and restore it to the beguiling countess.

Eve is captured by Quintana, savagely treated, but escapes to the hunting camp at Star Pond. Here, with STATE TROOPER STORMONT, she awaits the return for Clinch and his men who have gone out to hunt up Quintana's hide-out. Clinch discovers that one of his men, EARL LEVERETT, has gone over to Quintana. Leverett escapes in a hall of bullets from Clinch's rifle.

Go on With the Story

CHAPTER III

FOR its size there is no fiercer animal than a rat.

Rat-like rage possessed Leverett. In his headlong flight through the dusk, fear, instead of quenching, added to his rage; and he ran on and on, crashing through the undergrowth, made wilder by the pain of vicious blows from branches which flew back and struck him in the dark.

Thorns bled him; unseen logs tripped him; he heard Clinch's bullets whining around him; and he ran on, beginning to sob and curse in a frenzy of fury, fear, and shame.

Shots from Clinch's rifle ceased; the fugitive dropped into a heavy, shuffling walk, shivering, gasping, gasping with his weaponless fists in the darkness.

"Gee ram ye, I'll fix ye!" he kept muttering in his ear, jangling voice, broken by sobs. "I'll learn ye, yeh poor danged thing, gol ram ye!"

To his own shock on Stinking Lake he dared not go. He tried to believe that it was fear of Clinch that made him shy of the home shanty; but, in his cowering soul, he knew it was fear of another kind—the deep, superstitious horror of Jake Klooon's empty bunk—the repugnant sight of Klooon's spare clothing hanging from its peg—the dead man's shoes.

All at once he thought of Clinch's step-daughter. The thought instantly scared him. Yet—what a revenge!—to strike Clinch through the only creature he cared for in all the world!... What a revenge!

Clinch was headed for Lrowned Valley. Eve Strayer was alone at the Dump. . . . Another thought flashed like lightning across his turbid mind—the packet!

Bribed by Quintana, Jake Klooon, lurking at Clinch's door, had heard him direct Eve to take a packet to Owl Marsh, and had notified Quintana.

Wittingly or unwittingly, the girl had taken a packet of sugar-milk chocolate instead of the priceless parcel expected.

Again, carried in, exhausted, by a State Trooper, Jake Klooon had been fooled; and it was the packet of sugar-milk chocolate that Jake had purloined from the veranda where Clinch kicked it. For two cakes of chocolate Klooon had died. For two cakes of chocolate he, Earl Leverett, had become a man-slayer, a homeless fugitive in peril of his life.

"I'LL LEARN YE, YEH POOR DANGED THING!"

crossed, dangled above the rag-rug on the floor; her slim, tanned fingers were interlaced over the book on her lap.

Near the door stood State Trooper Stormont, spurred, booted, trig and trim, an undecided and flushed young man, fumbling irresolutely with the purple cord on his campaign hat.

She looked up at him again, wistfully. Perhaps he was restless, bored, sitting there beside her half the day, and, already, half the night. Men of that kind—active, nervous young men accustomed to the open, can't stand caging.

"I want you to go out and get some fresh air," she said. "It's a wonderful night. Go and walk a while. And—if you feel like—coming back to me."

"Will you sleep?"

"No, I'll wait for you."

Her words were natural and direct, but in their simplicity there seemed a delicate sweetness that stirred him.

"I'll come back to you," he said. Then, in his response, the girl in her turn became aware of something beside the simple words—a vague charm about them that faintly haunted her after he had gone away down the stairs.

That was the man she had once tried to kill! At the sudden and terrible recollection she shivered from curly head to bandaged feet. Then she trembled a little with the memory of his lips against her bruised hands—bruised by handcuffs which he had fastened upon her.

She sat very, very still now, huddled on the bed's edge, scarcely breathing.

For the girl was beginning to dare formulate the deepest of any thoughts that ever had stirred her virgin mind and body.

If it was love, then it had come suddenly, and strangely. It had come on that day—at the very moment when he flung her against the tree and handcuffed her—that terrible instant—if it were love.

Listening there where she sat clasping the book, she heard his steady tread patrolling the veranda; caught the faint fragrance of his brier pipe in the still night air.

"I think—I think it's—love," she said under her breath. . . . "But he couldn't ever think of me—" always listening to his spurred tread below.

After a while she placed both bandaged feet on the rug. It hurt her, but she stood up, walked to the open window. She wanted to look at him—just a moment—

By chance he looked up at that instant, and saw her pale face, like a flower in the starlight.

"Why, Eve," he said, "you ought not to be on your feet."

"Once," she said, "you weren't so particular about my bruises."

Her breathless little voice coming down through the starlight thrilled him.

"Do you remember what I did?" he asked.

"Yes. You bruised my hands and made my penance for your hands."

"I did penance—for your hands."

"Yes, you kissed them!"

What possessed her—what irresponsible exhilaration was inciting her to a daring utterly foreign to her nature? She heard herself laugh, knew that she was young, pretty, capable of provocation. And in a sudden, breathless sort of way an overwhelming desire seized her to please, to charm, to be noticed by such a man—whatever, on afterthought, he might think of the step-child of Mike Clinch.

Stormont had come directly under her window and stood looking up.

"I dared not offer further penance," he said.

The emotion in his voice stirred her—but she was still laughing down at him.

She said: "You did offer further penance—you offered your handkerchief. So—as that was all you offered as reparation for—my lips—"

"Then I'm coming up to complete my penance—"

"I'll lock my door!"

"Would you?"

"I ought to. . . . But if you are in great spiritual distress, and if you really and truly repent, and if you humbly desire to expiate your sin by doing—penance—"

And he waited: "Do you so desire?"

"Yes, I do."

"Humbly? Contritely?"

"Yes."

She strove to laugh, gazing down into his shadowy face—but suddenly the desire had left her—and all her gaiety left her, too, suddenly, leaving only a still excitement in her breast.

"You—you knew I was just laughing," she said unsteadily. "You understood, didn't you?"

"I don't know."

After a silence: "I didn't mean you to take me seriously," she said. She tried to laugh. It was no use. And, as she leaned there on the sill, her head heaved with its loud heaving.

"Will you let me come up, Eve?"

No answer.

"Would you lock your door?"

"What do you think I'd do?" she asked tremulously.

"You know; I don't."

"Are you so sure I know what I'd do? I don't think either of us know our own minds. . . . I seem to have lost some of my wits. . . . Somehow. . . ."

"If you are not going to sleep, let me come up."

"I want you to take a walk down by the pond. And while you're walking there all by yourself, I want you to think very clearly, very calmly, and make up your mind whether I should remain awake tonight, or whether, when you return, I ought to be asleep—and—and my door bolted."

A long pause: "All right," he said in a low voice.

YOUNG ABDUCTOR OF GIRL SERVED JAIL SENTENCES

Confessed to Several Crimes as He Was Measured.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 19.—The police announced here this afternoon that Frank Rawlings, 32, the Independence, Missouri, business man who kidnapped the pretty Independence Sunday school teacher, Ida Mae Haskins, aged 16, has confessed that he had served time in three prisons, once for killing a man who insulted a girl in his employ. He still stuck to his story, however, that he had not harmed the girl he carried off in his automobile and kept in his company for two weeks. She was employed by Rawlings.

Prisons in which Rawlings said he served and the crimes which the police say he admitted were:

Mansfield, Ohio reformatory, four years for killing "Red" Miller at Joliet, Ohio; Ohio State Penitentiary, 8 years, stabbing John Grogan at Cincinnati; Illinois State Penitentiary, Joliet, eleven months, robbing a man at Watseka, Ill., with a woman accomplice.

The police were measuring Rawlings when he confessed. "I know that you will get my record" he said, "when you turn my picture in so I might as well tell it to you."

"These Rats Wouldn't Eat My Best Grain," Says Fred Lamb.

"It's hard to keep rats out of a feed store. Tried for years. A neighboring store sold me some RAT-SNAP. It worked wonders. Gathered up dead rats every morning. Bought more RAT-SNAP. Haven't a rat now. They wouldn't eat my best grain when I threw RAT-SNAP around." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Public Drug & Book Co., and E. N. Howell Hardware Co.—Adv.

Two sisters and three brothers survive: Mrs. Elsie Shrader, Mrs. Margaret Bruce, Jacob Rowand, Roy Rowand of Polo and Clyde Rowand of Freeport. Funeral service were held Wednesday afternoon with burial in Fairmount.

Shack thieves stole a rug from the clothes line at the Frank Hammer home last week with Mr. and Mrs. Hammer were eating their supper. Trace of the thieves has not been found.

Passenger Service Ordered Restored

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 19.—Restoration of passenger service on the C. & E. I. road between Danville and Villa Grove was ordered today by the Illinois Commerce Commission. Trains compelled during the recent strikes must be returned to schedule November 5, the commission announced following a hearing this morning.

Service between Decatur and Effingham on the Wabash was discussed before the commission by representatives of the railroad and of towns along the line. The hearing was continued for three weeks to allow the various interests to seek a mutual agreement.

Evidence is Ready for Grand Jury in Rock Island Probe

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 19.—While William Schroeder, First Assistant U. S. District Attorney continued silent on the matter today, indications were that the consideration in his office of evidence regarding the liquor traffic phase of the Rock Island underworld feud had been completed and the results probably be submitted to the federal grand jury now sitting here.

Persons connected with the situation have departed. R. C. Goss, prohibition agent who investigated the Rock Island situation for the government and who has been in secret conference with the district attorney the last few days is believed to have returned to prohibition headquarters at Chicago, while Tom Cox, suspended Rock Island Chief of Police was to return to Rock Island today.

Socialistic tendencies are increasing rapidly in the country districts in Germany.

"CHEER UP" PROVED TO BE WORTHY MANY FINE PROMISES MADE

Huskin' Bee," with Mary Louise Withers and Helen O'Brien carrying the solo parts nicely, the chorus doing excellent work here.

French Ballet a Thrill

The Ohio Girls were good so was the chorus in the "Boogie Man Rag," with Helen Judge singing the solo with ease, while one of the funniest, one meant to say most thrilling things on the program was the French ballet, all of the numbers on the program were enthusiastically enjoyed.

"Three O'clock in the Morning," with Mrs. Winnifred Beech and James Schrock was a beautiful number, ending in the cabaret scene, and Mrs. Beech also sang beautifully in "Girls, Pretty Girls." The minuet danced by Miss Mildred Conley and Lucile Trautman was exceptionally well executed and merited the praise it received.

The solo dancers, Violet Watkins, Lucile Kelley and Frances Campbell, are clever and graceful little dancers, and too much cannot be said in their praise. Their costumes were beautiful and they danced as professionals.

College Chorus Pleased

The College Chorus with Harry Fordyce as soloist was much enjoyed, and the drill by the college or high school girls and their enthusiastic school yells.

One of the mysteries of the program was the gentleman who danced the "Bell Hop Blues," the darkey in the green suit. Could he dance? He just had to respond to the encore which he had not expected. We could not find out who he is. Watch him tonight. He is some dancer.

"The Sapphire Sea," with Miss Trautman singing this pretty song was an appreciated number with the chorus, and the "Gift of Roses," with Miss Marjorie Slothower as soloist was one of the most beautiful numbers on the program.

"Because You're You," with Miss Melnick singing the leading part was especially enjoyable.

The Farmettes in overalls and the Spanish girls received their share of applause because they well deserved it. Each number on the varied program is worthy special mention.

The house no doubt will be crowded tonight for the last performance.

Mrs. Charles Bishop, assisted by five musicians, furnished the music for the evening.

The program of the production follows:

- Act I—Bubble Land.
- Act II—The Carnival.
- Act III—Garden of Old Fashioned Roses.
- Act IV—The Cabaret.
- Act V—Gift of Roses.

Second Attempt to Kill Police Capt.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Police today were searching for a wounded gunman and his three companions whose attack on Captain Morgan A. Collins last night was the second attempt within three weeks to kill a police official.

Captain Collins dropped one of the men with a bullet in a pistol fight near an alley entrance. On Oct. 5th, Captain John Naughton was fired on near his home. Both captives had been especially active against criminals in their districts.

Supt. of Hospital Charged with Graft

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Charged with petty graft, Dr. Arthur E. Gammage, has been suspended as superintendent of the Municipal Contagious Disease Hospital. It was here that investigation is alleged to have disclosed that an L. C. Smith typewriting machine was obtained in the name of Elsie Smith. Further inquiry showed, it was said, that money obtained from the sale of barrels was credited to "Mr. Stave," while the son of a hospital cook was carried on the books as "Mr. Eatum."

LEGLESS BRITISHER PLEADS TO LEGION TO HELP END WARS

Thrilling Situation in Legion Convention Marks Day Session.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The representatives of the veterans of the World War in sight of the nations associated in war against the central powers, men who have given health, eyesight and limbs in a war which they believed was to end wars, today made their plea to the American Legion to help them make that promise and that hope come true.

Their spokesman was J. B. E. Cohen, of Great Britain, one time major in a territorial regiment. At Ypres Major Cohen lost both legs.

He was brought to the front of the platform of the convention hall in a wheel chair, after he had been introduced by H. Nelson Jackson, one of the American delegates to the convention in Inter-Alleied Veterans' Federation, which has been deliberating here for a week. As Cohen was wheeled forward there was a hush in the great hall.

Emotions Were Tense
Here was a man who had given everything that active men hold dear, because his country called him to

Old Folks Made New

"It is now five months since I took a course of your medicine for gas and stomach trouble and I am feeling entirely well. My friends all tell me I am looking twenty years younger and I certainly feel as they say. I am recommending May's Wonderful Remedy to all ailing with stomach and liver trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—Adv.

do so, a man of the old "hundred thousand" of England's little army of contemptibles of the untrained, tattered, lean, staggering mad heroes who fought until they dropped and then got up again and fought some more.

There was hardly a dry eye in the house. Men cried and laughed and were entirely unashamed of their emotion. Then Cohen spoke. He laid before the Legion the "eight points" on which the wounded veterans of the allied federation have agreed upon which they pin their faith of ending war. They are:

"1.—That all international agreements among governments affecting the entire people shall be open and above board, with full publicity.
"2.—That treaties make the law between the nations and they must be executed in good faith.
"Oppose Aggrandizement
"3.—To oppose the territorial aggrandizement.

"4.—To vigorously suppress within our boundaries all persons and propaganda seeking to overthrow by force, government existing by will of the people.
"5.—That the financial policies of the allied governments must have as their aim the stability of exchange and the resumption of international commerce and we recommend the suspension of trade relations with countries maintaining armies organized for aggressive purposes.

"6.—In view of the distorted political reports tending to unbalance the public mind, we recommend that there shall be established by the Fidiac, a news disseminating bureau with representatives in every member country; that this agency shall receive the official sanction of the governments of the respective countries; that it shall collect and issue news designed to offset destructive and inflammatory propaganda, particularly the propaganda published by the proponents of Bolshevism with the intent to change other forms of government.

"7.—That an international court be established to outlaw war.

"8.—To proceed as rapidly as conditions permit and when the decrees of such court become operative (except for machinery necessary to maintain them and the minimum police forces) to entirely disarm and disband our land, sea and air forces and destroy the implements of warfare."

Expect Hot Game with Normal Team at Mt. Morris, Sat.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
 Denver, Colo., Oct. 20.—The old classic of the diamond concerning the ball player who caught a ball in the pocket of his shirt, had its counterpart on a local golf course here yesterday. Lee Pickens, a local clothier, connecting with the gutta percha for a terrific drive down the fairway, cried "fore" as the ball soared toward a foursome ahead. One of the players stopped over, covering his head in conventional fashion. As he did so, Pickens' ball landed squarely in the pocket of his sweater.

Club officials whose veracity has never been questioned as to the accuracy of their medal scores, vouched

Sycamore Paper's Account of Game Here on Saturday

The Sycamore Tribune gives the following account of last Saturday's game between St. Albans college of that city and the Dixon high school football eleven:

"On Saturday last, St. Albans went down to defeat before Dixon high to the score of 6 to 0. The drizzling rain which had started in the morning made the field slippery and slow so that it was agreed between the teams to play quarters of only ten minutes.

"As it was soon found that the ball was too slippery for skillful manipulation, both teams punted a great deal during the first part of the game. Riggs of Saint Albans showed superiority in this art.

"Neither team displayed any brilliant playing during the first half. In the third quarter, by use of her peculiar wedge formation and silent signals, Dixon plunged and slid down the field to a touchdown. Conrad, full-back, carried the ball over. The attempt to drop kick failed. In the last period the Saints staged a slight comeback, but too late. Though fumbling often, several passes were neatly completed, and as the game finished, the Saints were fast approaching Dixon's goal.

"Tuffy Jones, captain and quarterback starred for Dixon, while Riggs, captain and Scully shared the honors for the Saints."

Lincoln Marker is Placed at Danville

By Associated Press Leased Wire
 Danville, Ill., Oct. 20.—The Daughters of the American Revolution and the Lincoln Marking association today placed here the twelfth memorial tablet marking the route of the old eighth judicial circuit in eighteen counties traveled by Abraham Lincoln and his contemporaries.

The gray granite pillar is like the eleven others which have been erected in county seat towns. All bear a heavy bronze tablet with the words: "Abraham Lincoln traveled this way when he rode the circuit of the old Eighth Judicial District 1847-1859."

Among the speakers on the Danville dedication program were Congressman Joseph G. Cannon; Lawrence Y. Sherman, former United States Senator; Dr. Otto L. Schmidt, president of the Illinois Historical Society; Mrs. H. E. Chubbuck of Peoria, state regent of the D. A. R.; Joseph G. Fifer of Bloomington, former governor of Illinois; Miss Lottie E. Jones, general chairman and Judge Francis Boggs, president of the Lincoln Marking association.

DYE SKIRT, COAT DRAPERIES WITH DIAMOND DYES

Each package of Diamond Dyes contains directions so simple that any woman can dye or tint faded, shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, sweaters, stockings, hangings, draperies, everything like new. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed, even if you have never dyed before. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade, or run.—Adv.

BILL EVANS SAYS

Defeat always riles the Princeton Tiger. That is why Chicago is certain to see Princeton at its best when these two elevens meet at Chicago Saturday, Oct. 28.

Football enthusiasts the country over await with much interest the clash between these two teams. Both will be at the top of their game. It should prove a real exchange of football greetings between the east and the west.

Last year Chicago rather upset the football dope by defeating Princeton, 9 to 0. A short forward pass and a field goal by Romney turned the trick. It was the first time the Tigers were ever defeated on their own gridiron by a western eleven.

The meeting at Chicago this year finishes a two year contract between the two universities. It is hinted that Princeton does not care to continue football relations with Chicago. The reason is the Chicago game makes the schedule a bit unwieldy. In other words, the competition Chicago is able to offer is greater than Princeton expected or desired.

I have it on pretty good authority that there will be no new agreement. Princeton seems determined to sever relations with football, the Tigers naturally would prefer to do so after a victory. For that reason Princeton is certain to put forth every effort to triumph over Chicago.

While western cities believe that Chicago has an excellent chance to reverse the score of 1921, Chicago will have no Romney this year, but some Low Sagg always manages to turn out a star performer—in the back field.

True, Princeton didn't look very good against Virginia. A 5 to 0 score was the margin of the Tiger victory. The fact that Princeton wasn't able to cross the southerners' goal line doesn't seem to worry Coach Bill Roper. He says his team has great promise and that he doesn't want it to come too fast.

Both elevens will be minus a number of the star performers of last season. Despite this, both Roper and Stagg claim the 1922 elevens are superior to those of 1921. Neither coach is inclined to be boastful, so it seems certain that western football enthusiasts are in for some real football when Princeton meets Chicago.

Roper is specializing in the kicking game. Stagg is also devoting much time to that department of play. It wouldn't be at all surprising if the two of some athlete played a prominent part in the outcome of the game.

ATTORNEY FOR DENTON TO ASK CASE DISMISSAL

Grounds for Motion to Be Made Not Made Known to Him.

Morrison, Ill.—H. H. Waite, attorney for Blair Denton, Erie man charged with the murder of his father-in-law, Ray Sibley, today filed a motion asking that the murder indictment be quashed.

Judge W. T. Church set the argument on the motion for Saturday morning and at that time Attorney Waite will present his reasons for asking that the indictment be set aside.

Robert W. Besse, state's attorney of Whiteside county, will oppose the motion. Attorney Wait has not indicated what reasons he will advance for asking that the alleged slayer be freed.

State's Attorney Besse said today that he expects the motion will be denied. Mr. Besse called the slaying of Sibley a "cold-blooded murder" and stated he will ask the jury to sentence Denton to be hanged. It is unlikely that the case will be tried for several weeks.
